

Jim Neil Receives "Save The Soil" Award From E. N. Arthur

Further Plans For Dollar-a-Month Club

J. Neil Presented With Cup At Chamber Meet

The March meeting of the Chamber was held in the Legion Hall at 7:00 p.m. on Thursday 2nd March 1950 with 40 members and guests present.

Minutes were read and discussed. On motion of Wilson-Wilson that minutes be adopted as read.

Discussion centered around the Dollar-a-Month Club and the completion of the front end of the arena. It was felt that the purpose of the Dollar-a-Month Club should be clarified—whether the money would be used only for sports or whether it might be used for construction of the front end for the arena.

Motion of Bradley-Wilson that funds collected by the Dollar-a-Month Club be used exclusively for sports promotion and for arena improvement only if necessary.

The point was made that the money would be used primarily for sports promotion but that it might be necessary if all other means failed to use some of it to erect a front end on the arena.

Amendment, Arthur-Tory, that the words "for arena improvement only if necessary" be deleted.

Golf Committee—No members being present the matter was not discussed.

Mr. Cromie, reported on the Public Library showing 1781 adult and 941 children's books on the shelves. Only 124 adult cards were issued in 1949 and 129 children's cards were issued. A total of $172.00 was spent for books last year.

Mr. B. Iverson reported on the finances of the Chamber. The ring operating committee shows a substantial credit balance. The sports account has been kept in the black for transfer of funds from other accounts. The recent Carnival showed a profit of $402.66.

Motion Armistead-Ryan, that letters be written to the Wainwright Hotel and Empress Cafe thanking them for their services given free to the hockey players.

Motion Tory-Teaser—that a letter be written to the C.G.F.P., C.Y.O. and A.Y.P.A. informing them of the Youth Training Course being offered by the province.

The question of formation of a Boy Scout Troop in Wainwright was presented by Mr. Adams. Mr. Wilson outlined the arguments against starting a second boys group in the town from the point of view of the Boy Scouts. Mr. Adams was asked by the Chair to report back at the next meeting on the subject.

A discussion took place around the impending fate of "Kings" at the Cattle Farm. Various suggestions were made regarding having this animal on display whether alive or dead—probably dead and stuffed. Mr. V. Fletcher and Mr. Ruste of the Agricultural Committee were appointed to look into the matter.

Mr. Wilson brought up the matter of a rifle range in the new school. The basement is available and it only requires an organization to finish a range.

Motion Smith-Stafford, that a Committee be appointed to look into the matter of a shooting range in the school.

Capt. in the recent Save The Soil Campaign were presented. Mr. Maddux conducted the portion of the meeting. Unfortunately due to drifted roads Mr. A. Girard of Chauvin was unable to receive the Chamber of Commerce trophy for the Improvement Award.

Mr. Arthur representing the M.D. of Wainwright, No. 61 presented the first year trophy to Mr. Jim Neil of Chauvin.

Motion Wilson-Ruste that the meeting adjourn.

A magistrate was discussing beverages with a friend.

"Have you ever tried gin and ginger beer?" asked the friend.

"No," replied the magistrate, "but I've tried a lot of folks who have."

Lamont-McNern Exchange Vows

Spring blossoms decorated the altar of St. Peter's Church in Edmonton, Saturday evening February 25th, for a pretty wedding ceremony in which Hazel Irene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. McNern of Wainwright, became the bride of Mr. Robert Daniel Lamont, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Lamont of Lacombe, Sask.

Mr. McNern gave his daughter, in marriage in the double ring ceremony performed by Rev. H. S. Paulke.

For her wedding the bride chose a gown of white satin and chantilly lace, fashioned with a portrait neckline outlined with a bias fold of lace, taught with clusters of seed pearls, and a full skirt inset with bands of lace. She carried a bouquet of red roses and wore as her only jewelry a pair of pearl earrings, gift of the groom.

Attending her were Miss Lillian Fox as bridesmaid, and Miss June Lamont as flower girl.

Miss Fox wore a gown of pink tulle and net, with matching hat and mittens. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations. The little flower girl was in a naive tulle frock with a matching pink bonnet. She carried a colonial bouquet.

Best men were Mr. Jack Lamont, brother of the groom, and the ushers were Mr. William Fox and Mr. Robert McNern.

Mr. H. Taylor played the music for the wedding and the soloist, Mrs. N. Minouque sang, "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly".

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McNern chose a navy blue tulle dress with dress with navy and pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Lamont, mother of the groom, was in a two piece blue ensemble with which she wore green accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A reception for 65 guests was held in the Maconnie Temple where Mrs. W. Fox and Mrs. R. Niven, sisters of the bride and groom respectively, presided at the tea table while Mrs. T. Atkinson, K. Bailey, Mrs. Leona Walker and Miss J. Niven assisted in serving.

A three tiered wedding cake centred the bride's table on which were bouquets of spring flowers and tall white tapers. Decorations included pink and white streamers strung from a large wedding bell suspended over the bride's table.

Mr. Jack Lamont proposed the toast to the bride.

Leaving for a honeymoon in Calgary and southern points, the bride changed to a two piece aurora blue ensemble of imported gabardine with navy and white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

On their return the newlyweds will make their home in Edmonton.

Congratulatory telegrams from the bride's grandfather in Wainwright, brothers in Newmarket and Guelph, Ont., were received and read at the reception.

In spite of conflicting town activities a fine representation of Guild members were entertained by hostesses Mesdames A. Ratnay, B. Pound and J. B. Robbins, at the home of Mrs. Ratnay on March 1st.

Mrs. B. Walker gave the devotional message which opened the meeting.

The resignation of Mrs. H. Syme as treasurer was respectfully accepted. Mrs. B. Ganderton consented to take office for the balance of the year. The following ladies agreed to assist at the Annual Spring "Bazaar" at the Commercial J. D. Wallace, A. Ratnay and B. Barrett.

Close Game Is Played On Heavy Ice Wainwright Wins First Finals Game At Vermilion

Commandos came from behind in the last period to win the first game of the Craig Cup play-off at Vermilion on Saturday night 3-1.

Playing before a crowd of 1100 people, with a record crowd from the Wainwright district following their favorite, and with plenty of money being posted on the outcome, the two evenly matched teams put on a fine exhibition of hockey despite heavy ice.

Gulliver put Commandos ahead 1-0 at the end of the first period on the result of the goal of the evening. Tigres tied it up to close the second all even 1-1.

In the third period Vermilion took the lead on an earned goal Jimmy Stewart, favoring a lateral sprained knee that was again jarred in the first period, made his only rush of the game and back-handed the tying goal at 12:45. The Wainwright crowd loosed several rafters with the yell. Then Targert got the winner to give Commandos one hand on the Craig Cup.

Only two penalties were handed out. Kaye Strate proved himself the iron man in playing through until the third period without a breather in order to cover up for Stewart's injury. At one play he made a flying dive full length to push a puck off a Tiger stick and saved what looked like a sure goal for Tigres. If Strate is not a Senior team next season the Star-Chronicle sports forecaster "will be wrong."

The series runs out of 5 to keep alert, for future dates—the fourth game will be played Monday night 13 March, if necessary.

CHAUVIN — WAINWRIGHT

Wainwright avenged a couple of one goal defeats recently by trouncing the Chauvin Renegades 11-5 in the P.M.C. Arena on Monday night.

With Murray opening the scoring at 3:22 on a play with Carter, followed by Taylor from Meyer and a neat goal by Macdonald, Wainwright took a 4-0 lead from the first. Darling collected a singleton for Chauvin.

Wainwright outscored Chauvin 4-3 in the second period on goals by Carter, Taylor, Murray and Darling. The opposition scores were Galt (2) and Wahlberg, Marden and Nordstrom collected assists.

Macdonald picked up two and Macdonald finished off two really smart power plays for Wainwright to Wahlberg's singleton in the third.

Tuesday night's game was even, but Wainwright's 1-1. The first game was a tie.

Wainwright: Purkin, Wilhart, Nordstrom, Murray, Carter, Macdonald, Taylor, Meyer, Marden, Stinet and Macdonald.

Chauvin: Milik, Perry, Malnouk, Saul, Christie, Heinech, Preider, Pabner, Wahlberg, Davis, Elsenberger, Kough, and Hall.

Referee B. Iverson. Linesman J. Ras nussen.

Harvesters registered a 1-0 win over the Irma Juvenile club at Irma, on Tuesday night. The game was evenly played with passing hockey and fast back-checking. Both teams revealed an improvement in style over the early season meeting between the two clubs.

Coach Tory took the Irma club to the Killam Juvenile Tournament on Saturday, when the local Harvesters were not available. Murray, Madkins, Coffield, Sheffield and Marden played with the Irma Club. Daren against Central High School, Killam, the Irma boys went down 6-4. Killam won over Holden in the final—after Holden eliminated Camrose in the other semifinal. These tournaments offer a good opportunity for keen hockey competition.

C.Y.O. Notes

Regular meeting of the C.Y.O. was held in the Separate School Auditorium Sunday evening.

There was a very good turnout and a very successful business meeting was conducted, followed by a discussion led by Rev. Father P. P. Egan which was of interest to everyone.

It was reported that the play is coming along nicely and will be put on two nights in Wainwright, March 24 and 25. It has been decided to put the play on at Chauvin and Vermilion arrangements for a hall, etc., are not yet complete so we wait for posters.

There will be a Deacons C.Y.O. meeting Sunday, March 19th either at Chauvin or Lloydminster.

Sending representatives to a summer camp at Red Deer was also taken up. The drive to see that each family of the parish is a subscriber to the Western Catholic or La Paroisse is in full swing with competent committees in charge. There is also a drive for new members this month, anyone interested contact any member.

University Pres. Critical Of High School Standards

Some time ago the urban section of the Alberta Trustees' Association passed a resolution regarding university entrance requirements and forwarded it to the President of the University of Alberta. This resolution and the reply thereto, below. An editorial in the letter was published in the Edmonton Journal on February 27. As the resolution and letter deal with a highly technical problem in modern education, it was thought that this further publicity would serve a useful purpose. The resolution and reply are here reprinted below.

The resolution reads as follows: "WHEREAS under present University Matriculation requirements no recognition is given for Grade XII credits in Technical Electives, and WHEREAS University Matriculation requirements do include one language other than English:

THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA BE IT RESOLVED that the University of Alberta should be included in its matriculation requirements, as an alternative to the language requirement, Grade XII standing in Technical Electives, each Grade XII standing to be determined by Department examinations as in other required subjects for University entrance.

President Robert Newton of the University of Alberta replied as follows: "I have your letter of December 8 transmitting a resolution passed by the Alberta School Trustees' Association urging the University to accept Grade XII Technical Electives as substitutes for second language and mathematics. I shall place this before the General Faculty Council at its next meeting."

As you probably know, there has been a continual flow of resolutions of this kind for the past several years. It has been a "hot" issue at the University and all with the object of securing for the students the benefits of the supposed interests of a "broadened and enriched" curriculum in the high schools.

It is time to initiate a two-way flow, in an effort to salvage some of the educational and disciplinary values of the older curriculum, and to secure for the students the benefits of the newer curriculum.

Several cases have been reported in this area recently in which cases of infectious diseases among children were not reported to the Medical authorities and in which proper quarantine procedures were not carried out. This not only has been responsible for a further spread of the disease concerned and has thus endangered other children, but it has led to disputes between the responsible parties and their neighbors whose children in turn contracted the disease.

Local health authorities stress the point that too much care cannot be taken in preventing the spread of these diseases. Families that do not report infectious diseases are leaving themselves open to prosecution under the Health Act and are showing a very poor regard for citizenship. A disease that is mild in one child may have crippling or fatal consequences in the next one that contracts it.

There has been a considerable epidemic of Scarlet Fever in a mild form in the area during the winter. Because of its mildness some individuals have felt that twenty-one days quarantine is too long and have ignored the law in this regard. This has resulted in a further spread of the disease. When questioned on the subject Dr. J. D. Wallace, M.H.O. for the Municipality, stated that a serious view of this practice must be taken and that prosecution would follow any further offense. Serious complications may follow even a mild attack of Scarlet Fever, and parents must be responsible for reporting every case to the District Nurse or M.H.O.

Ruth Wallace Reigns Queen At Wainwright Carnival

Mrs. Peter Scherger Honored At Shower

Mrs. Peter Scherger (Mrs. Grace Teeter) a bride of last month, was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower held at the home of Mr. H. Ward Jr. on Friday afternoon, March 3rd.

Twenty ladies were present. The gifts were presented to the bride in a prettily decorated cart carriage drawn in by Misses Wendy Ward and Mary Babcock. The bride sitting in the cart carriage, thanked the guests for the lovely and useful gifts she had received.

A singing-song was then enjoyed by all after which a lovely lunch was served by Mrs. Ward, assisted by Mrs. Madkins and Mrs. Babcock.

Town Topics

The Dollar-a-Month Club—that's the name of the newest organization to grace our midst. It's a club that anyone who is interested in the advancement of sports in this area can join, and the fee for joining is clearly explained in the name of the organization. Fees are paid just as simply as the simple procedure of signing twelve post-dated cheques each for a dollar, and to make membership more attractive some lucky members will win, of other wise receive, the sum of fifty dollars each month.

The whole idea is the brain child of one of our newer business men and is now being carefully handled by a committee of the Chamber of Commerce headed by Cliff Gundry-White. The purpose of the organization is to raise funds to carry on and improve sports activities sponsored by the Chamber in this area. This of course includes the provision of a bigger and better long range work by numerous activities sponsored by the Chamber in this area. There are those who will feel that it should also be used to finish the Arena—specifically to build a front end. However the last Chamber meeting made it clear that at least for the present the organization should not assume that responsibility. The Town now owns the Arena and because of the long years work by numerous activities sponsored by the Chamber in this area. THE TRUCK PARKING PROBLEM

With spring around the corner and summer on the way, the problem of truck parking will soon be coming to the fore again. With the ever increasing number of motor vehicles the parking problem, even in small towns has become a troublesome, if not serious one. The situation is complicated quite a lot, by the fact that among the vehicles parked on the streets, there are usually a number of good sized trucks. These vehicles not only take up quite a lot of room, but project farther back into the street than cars, and obstruct the vision of drivers coming down the street as well as those who are backing away from the curb. Moreover, though it may be the children's and jaywalkers fault, they add to risk of motorists striking pedestrians. Over and above all is the general shortage of parking space which makes it difficult even for the car driver to park his car on rush days and nights.

So far reaction to this situation on the part of the townspeople has consisted largely of grumbling and suggested by-laws to prohibit truck parking on certain main streets. This attitude on the part of townspeople, while it may be well-founded is apt to cause misunderstanding and resentment on the part of truck drivers. We in these rural towns, while we feel the urgent need for preserving the safety of our streets, and know that protection must be provided for those who come to town in cars, must also realize that those who either through need or choice, make the trip in trucks, are also entitled to consideration. With the growing number of cars there is little question that the removal of trucks from certain streets is only a part of the solution of the difficulty. We owe our existence to the country about us, and we should make every effort to provide them with whatever comforts and conveniences we can. Among the conveniences one that will soon become necessary will be a town parking lot. In most towns there is a spare bit of property that can be used for this purpose. Either it is an unused privately owned spot, or a few lots that the town has taken over for taxes. It may of necessity be located at a distance from the shopping centre, but even so, would be welcomed, first by truck drivers, and second by motorists who cannot find parking space on downtown streets. Wainwright, Edgerton and Chauvin would all do well to consider seriously the provision of parking space now, while the property is available.

THERE ARE OTHER ERRORS

In the Camrose Canadian we read: "The Christian Science Monitor has come forward with some of the behind-the-scenes facts in connection with the United States coal strike. John L. Lewis has pushed his miners up the wage scale till he has made the industry top-heavy economically. This also is the age of oil and gas. The Big Inch gas pipelines from Texas to the North Atlantic seaboard has cut deeply into coal demands. The railroads are rapidly converting from coal and steam to diesel locomotives. Lewis has one third too many miners on the payroll. The welfare fund at present demands for production will not pension off his surplus. In other words, he has been caught in the web of his own making. John L. Lewis has done a lot for his miners, but they themselves have not been without fault. Welfare workers have found them, as a class, to be most profligate in the spending of their earnings. The same applies in Canada. Their down-trodden state has too often been little less than the bare results of over-free spending. Now the reckoning has come and Lewis is trying to dump the load in the laps of the entire American nation. On the other hand, if he doesn't win, who will mine the nation's coal?"

While the coal strike riles us about as bad as it does anyone who does not depend on coal, and while we agree that the miners are heading directly to a place where they will price themselves out of a market which would be almost certain to atrophy with the growing use of substitutes, we still feel that the coal miner has in the past had, and perhaps now has, as substantial ground for complaint. In Alberta the workmen's compensation rate, which is based on actual expenditures, is a great deal higher for mine-workers than for any other category of employees. Moreover it is fairly well acknowledged that mine operators have been none too co-operative in providing for the safety of their employees, and making the improvements called for by safety regulations. We have long felt that in essential industries, no matter what they were, strikes should be either very severely frowned on or not permitted, but that wage disputes should be settled by arbitration. The need for such a course of action should be more than evident, for with our present dependence on so many industrial elements and so many services, the hardship caused by strikes can well outweigh the benefits gained. Moreover the injudicious use of the strike weapon (and it seems often to be used injudiciously) can well serve to disrupt our economic welfare. But... if such course of action should be taken, it should be accompanied by an equally strict insistence that operators bring their workings and methods up to standard insofar as safety and working conditions are concerned.

FOR THE KIDS

It's not too long since the winter and spring seasons were something which parents of small children used to in some ways dread, for it was during these seasons that the plagues which snuffed out so many young lives used to make their appearance. Diphtheria and whooping cough particularly, and to a lesser degree pneumonia, typhoid, scarlet fever and other complaints cut into many homes in the district, and took their toll. Today, thanks to the benefit of preventive medicine, and also thanks to the district health nurse and the doctors who administer it, and to the remarkable antibiotics, a great deal of suffering and grief has been eliminated from our existence.

However, the continuation of our safety and the safety of our children depends to a great extent, perhaps wholly on our continued vigilance and wholehearted co-operation in the program of disease prevention.

Full use of the facilities provided for us, and prompt reporting of communicable diseases will retain for us the wonderful benefits we now enjoy.

UNDERWRITING CITIZENS

It seems improbable that we can fully develop our vast natural resources, or forever support our expanded national debt, on a basis of Canada's present population. It is encouraging to see the government recognizing the importance of immigration by the establishment of a new department under Mr. Walter Harris. It is discouraging that almost his first official words suggest the difficulty of obtaining immigrants from Britain and Western Europe because of currency difficulties. The sobering fact is that immigration is drying up.

This is not due to lack of interest or effort. With the close of the war government undertook a policy of assisted immigration. It is a disconcerting fact, however, that despite the eagerness of people to escape the dangers and deprivations of Europe, despite the assisting schemes, we secured only 362,541 new citizens during the past five years. In 1931 alone, and without the operation of these assistance, with non-governmental agencies handling the job, we secured 403,900 persons.

Mr. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture, with a quick estimate of the number of new mouths needed to consume our surplus farm products, suggested that Canada could support 50,000,000 people. The Progressive Conservative leader, Mr. George Drew, in the fever of an election campaign set his sights at 100,000,000. Both are distant goals indeed with immigration for 1949 21.4% below the previous year's figures.

The reason for this decline is not far to seek. Last year immigration from the United Kingdom was down 51.8% from the previous year. Yet Britain reluctantly accepts the theory that she needs to lose population, while Canada...

An Open Letter To—
The People of Wainwright.
Dear Members of Our Community,
"Are you interested in your children?"

"Have you a 'beef' concerning your school?"
We have an excellent Home and School Association right here in Wainwright, and although this organization has been in action for two seasons, there are only thirty members. Yes, thirty members, and students number 419 in our schools.

Are there only thirty members of this rising and intelligent community of Wainwright, interested enough in the welfare and future of their children to bother to come out once a month to hear how they are educated and by whom, and if the educational system is adequate?

Why not pay a visit or two to the coming meetings, usually held the last Wednesday of the month. You too will wish to become a member.

Also, you as taxpayers have the right to voice your opinions, and where better than at your Home and School Association, where something is done about it!

If some members of a community take the trouble to organize an association for a certain purpose, whatever its natural preference would be for people of English-speaking stock. Britain, fearful of her diminishing dollar supply, permitted prospective emigrants to take with them only $250.00 for each of the first four years, too little for any but the most adventurous, or those with nothing to lose. Our government has been able and apparently eager to underwrite a manner of advantage. Might not this be a proper occasion for such action? Might it not be feasible to underwrite the new citizens we need so urgently? We have extended credits to support agricultural and other products. Is there a sound reason why we should not extend credit to the extent of the capital that prospective citizens might wish to bring with them? So we would provide enlarged consumption at home, that is as valuable as consumption abroad; so assure the new citizen the necessary capital to establish himself in Canada; so provide Britain with needed dollars to be used to purchase Canadian goods.

It might be, especially one which touches nearly all the members of said community, it is the duty of those members to help that organization.

The aims of the Home and School Association are sane and sensible. Here they are! Read them and form your opinion as to whether membership in this fine organization is worth your time—two hours per month!

1. To promote the welfare of children and youth.
2. To raise the standard of home life.

3. To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth.
4. To enable parents and teachers to co-operate in the training of the child.

5. To understand and to aid the schools, and to interpret them to the public.
6. To obtain the best for each child according to his physical, social and spiritual needs.

7. To foster high ideals of true citizenship and patriotism.

"A learning child is a learning child, dependent entirely on you. Can you give him the guidance he's waiting for, at home and in school too?"

"The parent is needed in the home, the teacher in the school. So why not put faith in both my friends, and join them at Home and School?"

Sincerely,
(Mrs. S.) Winnifred E. Bath,
Sec.-Treas. Home and School Assoc.

The Editor
The Star-Chronicle
Wainwright, Alberta.
Dear Sir,

Not so very long ago I was asked to sign a petition. It was called "Ban the Bomb" and stated very well I think, a common man's protest against the use of atomic warfare. I'd like to appeal to each and every reader for support of this petition for better a world in peace than a world in pieces—don't you think? Our lives, our children's and our grandchildren's lives will not be safe until the atom bombs and the missiles which brag of their destruction, are under strictest control. The horror of the use of one of these bombs has been shown, and is still wrecking havoc among the population of Nagasaki and Hiroshima. Any sane man who can advocate its use cannot call himself either Christian or civilized. So I say "Ban the Bomb"—be my voice ever so humble may it swell among the common folk until the Voice of Peace will be heard all over the world. I am asking the Star-Chronicle to print a copy of this petition hoping to gather in more signatures—so sign it Dad, your sister, your especially mother as I have, being one.

I realize my request is in competition with your paid advertising space but hope you will recognize the tremendous importance of the "peace for all time" campaign. Thank you.

A Farm Home-maker.
MRS. M. K. HOOPER.
Petition

To the Right Honorable
Louis St. Laurent,

Prime Minister of Canada.

We, the undersigned citizens of Canada, acutely aware of the suffering, horror, and destruction brought about by the use of the atomic bomb, respectfully petition the government to take the following immediate action:

1. Urge the Assembly of the United Nations that the Atom Bomb Be Banned.

2. Press for strictest international control to insure compliance of all nations in outlawing the bomb as a military weapon.

3. Encourage research in the use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes and its practical application for the increased well-being of our people.

This is Education Week. It is a period selected each year in which all organizations concerned with or interested in education are urged to do something to bring the problems of education before the public. The week is sponsored by the following national organizations:

Canadian Teachers' Federation
Canadian Federation of Home and School
National Council of Women of Canada
Canadian Legion

Canadian Manufacturers' Association
Canadian Chamber of Commerce
Trades and Labour Congress of Canada
Canadian Congress of Labour

Canadian Federation of Agriculture
Canadian Association for Adult Education

Each year a general theme is adopted, and even daily topics are suggested.

I cannot let this week pass without publicly voicing some thoughts on education. I shall not use the suggested theme, "Education—Everybody's Business" as I have already made that one of my topics within the past year.

Instead, I shall comment upon the letter of the President of the University of Alberta, reprinted elsewhere in this issue.

Dr. Newton may be an "old fogey". Any of us may be so branded if we disagree with anything new. But at least he must be regarded as one of the foremost educational authorities in the Province. We cannot disregard his opinions. He is evidently none too satisfied with the educational standard in Alberta, especially as concerning students preparing for the university.

Dr. Newton says, "Go ahead with all means with mass education: it is an essential concomitant of modern life." In spite of the fact that many people criticize our curriculum as being too academic, we have made great strides in the education of the masses. More students remain in school longer and find courses more to their liking. This is desirable provided they are spending their time more profitably to themselves than they would outside the school. It is not necessary that we put our young people into industry while they are still immature. The loss of production due to the additional years they spend in school will be more than compensated for by their increased productivity. I recently read an article in which a research worker attempted to show that as better graduates' increased earnings resulted in... such higher income taxes, etc., as to more than pay for what the public spends on their education.

We should probably carry mass education much further as, throughout Canada, only 25 percent of the students who begin High School graduate from grade twelve. A large percentage of these drop out immediately after they reach the upper compulsory attendance age. Evidently our education is very unsatisfactory to them. But I am sure it is beyond the ability of the students who begin High School graduate.

Comment and Notes of Current Interest to Farmers

Compiled by J. S. Robblee and F. W. Maddex

COMMERCIAL FERTILIZER FOR WHEAT IN SOUTHERN ALBERTA
In many areas of southern Alberta the application of commercial fertilizer to the land at seeding time will increase the yield of dry land wheat. This is according to the results from the fertilizer tests conducted by the Lethbridge Experimental Station on the District Experimental Station on the District Experiment Substations located in southern parts of the province. The fertilizers used were ammonium phosphate (11-48-0) at rates of 15 and 50 pounds per acre; ammonium sulphate at 37.5 pounds per acre; single superphosphate at 50 pounds per acre; triple superphosphate at 50 lbs. per acre; and complete fertilizer at 37 pounds per acre.

The greatest increases have usually occurred in the shallow black soil zone and these increases have most consistently been from the application of 11-48-0 at 50 pounds per acre. In the brown soil zone on the medium or light textured soils no important increases have occurred, but on the heavier soil, such as clay, wheat has responded profitably to the application of 11-48-0 at 10 pounds per acre. In the heavier rainfall areas of the dark brown soil zone, 11-48-0 at 50 pounds has given worthwhile increases on heavy, medium textured soils. Whenever there has been a response from commercial fertilizer, days to ripening have been shortened by two or three and the straw has been longer.

Because there has been no response from fertilizer on the medium and light brown soils does not mean that these soils have more plant nutrients than the dark brown and shallow black soils. It simply indicates that low precipitation is the limiting factor in crop production in the coarse textured brown soils and not soil fertility.

Leaving two or three unfertilized drill widths on the fertilized crop is one way a check can be made as to whether or not the commercial fertilizer is giving profitable returns.
WITH THE DISTRICT AGRICULTURIST
By J. S. ROBBLEE

THE WEED SITUATION
In 1949, producers in both Canada and U.S. will be asked to cut down on wheat acreages and increase acreages of feed grains. This is a result of increased surplus of wheat in producing countries and a decrease in buying power in many importing countries. In neighboring U.S.A. farmers are asked to decrease acreages of wheat by 17% in Canada the figure is set at 10 per cent.
A reduction such as this will mean in many cases that 10% of the farm can be devoted to livestock production by growing feed grains or seeding back to grass for hay or pasture purposes. The latter policy would be favored because during periods of international war, the production of wheat is increased. By having land to grass it can be readily broken and put back in production. After a period of increasing fertility with grass.

GRAIN CROP VARIETIES FOR 1950
A new publication in this office Varities of Grain for Alberta, 1950 gives the latest recommendations for cereal crops in 1950. For this particular district the following varieties are recommended. They are listed in alphabetical order, not according to merit or desirability:
Wheat—Thatcher
Winter—Wheat—Kharkov, Yogo
Oats—Alex, Eagle, Victory
Barley—Compans, Newal, Oil, Titan
Flax—Dakota, Redwing, Royal.

CULTURAL CONTROL OF DEEP-ROOTED PERENNIAL WEEDS
Fortunately, the majority of the deep-rooted perennial weed infestations in Western Canada are still in relatively small patches. However, there are enough infestations of greater extent, up to quarter section areas, to warrant knowledge of cultural control measures. Until such time as expensive, sure, and easily applied chemical eradicates are available, the spread of the deep-rooted perennials will continue.
Tests, says J. J. Szemith, have been conducted by the Lethbridge, Alta., Experimental Station over the past ten years on cultural control and eradication of representative types of deep-rooted perennial weeds, including field bindweed and hoary cross. Continuous cultivation, extending into the third season, has been found effective in eradicating both field bindweed and hoary cross, provided that the cultural operations are begun in the early spring and continued until freeze-up each season. Either a blade type implement or the one-way disk has proved effective.
A black fallow is not necessary. By allowing four or five days growth to appear above ground following each cultivation, the eradication can be effected with fewer operations. When this amount of regrowth was allowed, hoary cross was eradicated by the end of the third season. In this case, cultural operations were made at two-week intervals in the first season, at three-week intervals in the second season, and the eradication was completed by these operations in the third year. In all, twenty-three cultivations were necessary to bring about complete eradication.

Cultural control is effective, even though fairly expensive. The disadvantages of this method include the loss of cash crops for one or two years, and the possible loss of soil by drifting. Neither of these disadvantages are serious, as the eradication of an infestation will be worth the loss of some crop for a limited period, and emergency drifting controls, such as listing, can be applied.
When deemed necessary, a combination of cultural and cropping practice may prove satisfactory. Tests conducted on control of "hoary" cross have shown that almost complete eradication resulted from following into the second season and plowing to fallow. If spring cereals are preferred, barley is recommended as it provides more competition to the weeds than does wheat.

A final word of caution must be given. Even after a patch of weeds has been eradicated, continued vigilance is necessary to prevent reinfestation from seeds present in the soil. This is particularly true with field bindweed, as seeds of this weed are known to remain in the soil for twenty years in a viable condition. Bindweeds must be cultivated out soon after they appear, or reinfestation will occur.

STARTING VEGETABLES INDOORS
P. D. McCall, Supervisor of Horticulture, suggests that one way to get ahead of the gardening season is by starting the vegetables in the house. A good soil for this purpose may be made up of two parts of good garden loam, one part of sand and one part of peat or leaf mould. Started in small flats on the windowsill around the end of March, the plants should be picked out after the first true leaves have formed, and spaced in the new container about one and one-half inches apart.
The flats should not be allowed to dry out. Water well at the time of planting and cover with newspaper until the seeds have germinated. Following germination, frequent watering will be required, but care must be taken not to water too heavily, as there is danger of damping off. Adequate drainage can be provided by holes in the bottom of the flat, covered with small stones, leaf mould or peat.

NEWS NOTES
from your
Dist. Home Economist
Sheila M. Furset, Ryke

It seems as we approach spring we all get a feeling of being run down. During the winter months it is difficult for us to always get all the fresh fruits and vegetables which we should have and never forget that what we eat can make a great deal of difference to how we feel.
Our best guide to good eating in Canada's Food Rules and we should all try to follow these as closely as possible.
If you are not certain of what is included in these rules write and ask me for Everyday Guide to Good Eating. All bulletins from this department are free for the asking. I came to the point of one serving of meat per day or substitute with egg or cheese. Liver, heart or kidney should be served once a week.
Liver comes more closely to being pure protein than any other meat and proteins are our body supply of building and repairing material. Liver is a rich source of iron and has been found helpful in several forms of anemia.
An important reason for those of us in the northern regions for using liver is the high Vitamin C content. This is one vitamin which must be in the diet every day and we depend on our citrus fruits and liver is an excellent source.
Have you tried baking liver? Here's a recipe:
Baked Liver and Bacon
Use veal liver, sliced one half inch thick. Cover bottom of shallow baking dish with strips of bacon; salt the liver, and place it on top of the bacon. Bake in hot oven about 20 minutes, or until tender.
When liver is about half done, turn it over and lay more strips of bacon on top of it. At this time, pour two or three tablespoons of hot water into the pan.
Make milk gravy from the drippings. If desired the liver may be dredged in flour before baking.
If you would like a copy of our Bulletin Liver Recipes write and ask for it. Some other recipes are Spanish Liver, Liver Souffle, Liver and Waffle loaf and several others.
In these days when meat is an expensive item we cannot forget the various substitutes from cheese.
We have an interesting bulletin on Cheese Dishes you might enjoy.
Here's a cheese recipe which uses up stale bread and is very good eating too.

Rose Willow

The March meeting of the Rose Willow W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Ott on March 2, with seven members present.
At this meeting Mrs. Sewell gave a very interesting paper on Social Welfare. Mrs. Carey read several good ditties on agriculture. We decided to send a contribution to the March of Dimes. Mrs. R. McNeil was named our representative to the "Blue Print for Action" Course to hold in May. Mrs. H. Ott was elected delegate to the conference in Edmonton at the end of this month. We agreed to make a log cabin quilt this time.
The next meeting is to be at Mrs. V. Avon's. At the close of the meeting a very lovely supper was served by Mrs. Ott.
As we are losing a very good member and friend in the form of Mrs. Sewell who is moving out of the district, to show our appreciation of all she has done for us in our W.I. work we presented her with a parting gift. A small token to remember us by and to remember all the good times we've had together. We will miss her very much at our meetings. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Sewell and Billy every success in their new home.

GREENSHIELDS

Messrs. Martin and Bill Daniels made good use of a snow plow early last week.

We regret that Mr. F. Elder is a patient in an Edmonton hospital receiving treatment for an eye injury. Mr. Elder was also in the city for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Stewart drove to Edmonton last week and returned via Vermilion Saturday night so they could attend the hockey game. Several supporters of the Commies were in attendance too.

A number of local folks held a surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roberts, Friday evening, in honor of their recent marriage. A presentation was made.
Mr. and Mrs. Blouffer entertained guests at dinner Sunday evening.

GERALD

The last meeting in February of the Gerald Farm Forum was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Deyell with 25 people present. "Conservation in Everyone's Business" proved to be a very interesting topic for discussion. Better methods of soil conservation were discussed in all their various aspects. Many guests expressed a wish for more education and demonstrations on proper contour farming, and for a more compulsory zoning act. Lunch was served by Mrs. Hamilton.

The snow and blocked roads did not prevent a sleigh load of local residents seeing the hockey game last Tuesday. A sleigh driven by E. Myrland took time to turn.

The snow plow coming through on Thursday made travelling possible again.

Our best wishes are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Peter Scherger who were married in Wainwright recently.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Ratnay, Mr. and Mrs. J. Perkins and Mr. M. Stephenson were among those who went to Vermilion for Saturday's hockey game.

Some of his neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. R. Campbell on March 1st, to celebrate his birthday.
Miss Lucille Deyell has been home from school for the past week on account of illness.

GILT EDGE

Billy McClellenn moved from Edmonton to spend the week-end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe McClellenn. Mrs. Garnet Hughes and family will be leaving shortly to visit her parents in England.

The district was sorry to hear of the passing of Camille Caron of Autuain Leaf who passed away on Thursday morning. Many in the district attended the funeral on Saturday.

Mrs. Bert Kitchen spent part of last week visiting her mother Mrs. Stuart Flaxton, who is a patient in the Royal Alex hospital in Edmonton.

Several from the district motored to Vermilion Saturday night to see the hockey game between Vermilion and Wainwright. Good going Wainwright. Mr. and Mrs. W. Flaxton of Wainwright spent the week-end visiting at the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. G. Crenshaw.

Mr. Geo. Anderson spent the week-end at the Fletcher home in the Plaxto district.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne Treffrey and family were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Plaxton on Sunday.

Sydenham F.W.U.A.

Sydenham F.W.U.A. held their March meeting at Mrs. Bachmann's home, with eleven members and three visitors present. Correspondence and Bill-Lights were read and discussed. Secretary was instructed to write a letter of thanks to the Hospital Board for the bulletin board, an appreciated feature.

Plans were completed for serving lunch at the Blood Donor Clinic. Mrs. Kinghorn gave a bulletin on Arts and Crafts and displayed two beautiful rugs which she had soaked. Next meeting at Mrs. Ackroyd's home on April 6th.

To be prepared for war is the most effectual means of preserving peace.

FABYAN

Mr. and Mrs. John Mulrow visited in Chatham over the week-end, having a quick but good bye, in all friends and relatives.
Fabyan and district were well represented at the hockey game held at Vermilion during Saturday evening last. Single-billing topped the sports at Fabyan last week.

Sunday climaxed it. Yeah! Mud. We fell in the mud, rolled in it. In Chatham, thanks to driver Percy H. And so good business for the Cleaners. But that old saying rinks out again. It's an ill wind that doesn't blow somebody good.

Mr. Lloyd Cartier has returned from Whitehorse where he was employed with the "Sweet Briar".

Albert Marchand is saying hello to Fabyan district, he has been working at Whitehorse. (MAY 25, 1949)
It's just about mid time and so far Fabyan won't (give) on. He spent his birthday Sunday. Just for that wait till next week, we'll have plenty to print.

Mrs. Findlay Jr., of Ryley and Miss Findlay spent several days visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Findlay. Nora has been visiting since Christmas and has returned to her work at Fort McMurray.

Miss A. Voege of Macklin, Sask., visited with the Hendersons and Findlays last week. She is now visiting at Chatham.

Mr. and Mrs. Seth Oldham and family were Sunday dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. A. Christenson.

Mr. and Mrs. A. McCauley and family were Edgerton visitors on Sunday.

Mr. Ralph and John King made a trip to Carter Creek last week. "Johnny" feeling the need of a companion has purchased a beautiful St. Bernard. He covers seating space for two girls' school. "Lucky dog".

Due to blocked roads John and Rex Benken had to remain in Fabyan over the weekend.

VILLEPATOURE, France—An Indian's feathered headdress stole the show in a recent hat-making contest at a Canadian home for war-mutilated children here.

The amateur milliner who turned out the novel prize-winner was Miss Ruth McKinnon, a physiotherapist, who works for the Unitarian Service Committee of Canada which operates the home.

Many of the children at the home had lost an arm or a leg in war bombings. But that didn't stop them from joyously taking part in the party which went with the hat-making contest.

"It is really marvelous what these girls can do with just one hand," Miss McKinnon wrote her mother back in Canada. "All the girls made very clever and pretty hats. One even had a hat to represent the cog wheel oil bottle which is passed around each morning in the refectory."

Miss McKinnon kept her own content hat a secret while she was making it. She told her little patients only that it would be a Canadian hat.

So far, 42 mutilated children at Unitarian Service Committee homes in France have been outfitted with artificial limbs. Each of them required $150 donated by some Canadian individual or organization.

Miss McKinnon, who served with the Canadian army overseas from 1942 to October, 1949, came to Villepatoire last August to give post-amputation care to the mutilated children.

FARM NOTES FROM ABROAD

U.S. Wheat Acreage
A new plan for wheat acreage allotments has been proposed in the United States which it is hoped will preclude the necessity for marketing quotas in 1951. The new allotment is 7 million acres less than the original, which was set at 69.3 million acres. (The 1950 adjusted allotment is 78.4 million acres.)

The Department of Agriculture proposes to hold in reserve one per cent of the total national allotment and apportion this to counties where reduction in wheat acreage would be a hard ship in view of the summer fallow practice which had restricted the wheat acreage in previous years.

French Wheat
Returns from the 1949 harvest indicate that France may have as much as 560 thousand tons of exportable wheat available for marketing quotas in 1951. The new allotment is 7 million acres less than the original, which was set at 69.3 million acres. (The 1950 adjusted allotment is 78.4 million acres.)

The Department of Agriculture proposes to hold in reserve one per cent of the total national allotment and apportion this to counties where reduction in wheat acreage would be a hard ship in view of the summer fallow practice which had restricted the wheat acreage in previous years.

Bombay's Milk
The Bombay Government has announced that a project for supplying unadulterated milk to the city of Bombay is progressing rapidly. Seven of the proposed dairy units are in operation and are supplied by three thousand buffalo cows. Ten other units will be completed by March, 1950 and much more for pasteurization is being installed in the central dairy. A bacteriological section added recently checks the cleanliness of containers.

Danish Farming
Over the last 10 years detailed expenditure and receipt accounts have been kept on more than ten thousand Danish farms. From these the Agricultural Accountancy Bureau estimates the average return to farmers on their capital invested. For the twelve months ended March 31, 1949 this return was estimated at $5 per cent compared with 3 per cent for the previous twelve months and the 30-year average of 5 per cent.

WHITE CLOUD

Mr. Keith Babb of Calmar and Mr. Jesse Myer, who has been working at Villa on a well, charred through the snow drifted roads last week to visit relative in the district.
Mr. Tommy Sheridan visited at the Babb home on Monday evening.

We have a report of a snake being found, he must have been asleep walking. Congratulations to you Ruth Wallace on your being chosen as queen of the Carnival; sorry some had to miss it this year.

We understand Mr. H. Teeter is a real hockey fan, he rode horse back to town Monday night to see the game—18 miles or so.

Congratulations are sincerely extended to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lamont (nee Hilda McNern) who is well known around the district.
The Annual Telephone Co. Meeting was held in the Orange Hall recently.

DRINK-EATER SNAKE IS TALL TALE TOPIC

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, Minn.—L. S. Matlock of Moorhead, Minn., recently won the "tall tales" contest sponsored by a sporting goods store here.
He took the $50 first prize with yarn about an angler who was looking for bait.
The angler found a snake which had caught a frog. He took the frog away from the reptile, and being a fair man, gave the snake a nip of whiskey. A few minutes later the snake was back with another frog.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE
Local farmers are keeping their fingers crossed and hoping their feed holds out until Spring.
Mr. Henry LaVerna is busy cutting brush out on the road south of their place so maybe we'll see a graded road there next summer.

Here's why I take my JOHN DEERE Equipment to the man who knows it Best!

"There are three mighty important reasons why my John Deere equipment goes to a John Deere Dealer for reconditioning. First, I benefit from the skill of his trained mechanics, schooled in servicing methods recommended by John Deere. Second, his shop is well-equipped with up-to-date precision equipment. His mechanics have the tools to do the work right. Third, he uses only genuine John Deere Parts, which are made to fit and wear like the originals they replace. Thus, it's a three-way assurance of work well done... economically done." It will pay you to consider the important servicing advantages we offer. See us soon for complete details.

1949 Annual Report Of The Agricultural Service Board

M.D. of Wainwright No. 61

Chairman: Councillor, A. C. Archibald, Irma; Councillor, P. T. Smala; Health: Ratspaver, J. A. Bell, Irma; Ratspaver, D. H. Folkins, Chauvin; District Agriculturalist: J. S. Robblee, Wainwright; Field Supervisor: F. W. Maddox, Wainwright; Secretary Treas: Chas. Wadham, Wainwright. The Board held four meetings in 1949 and dealt with a number of matters in the interest of the ratepayers and the district as a whole. Some of the matters discussed and dealt with are as follows: Use of the National Film Board to assist the educational programs of the Agricultural Service Board; Camera for use by Field Supervisor and the slides to be used at Agricultural meetings and on the Film Board circuit to assist in the extension programs; T. R. and Bang's free area for M.D.; Seed Cleaning Plant; 3-4-D distribution; Tread Flax control; Stop Seeding Orders and Supervision parcels; Purchasing of a Power Mower by M.D. to cut weeds on roadside and the farms of defaulters under Weed Act; also a number of other matters too numerous to mention.

Warble Fly Campaign

This service was offered again last spring, and for the first part, the response was very encouraging. The season between the time the roads were passable and the spring rush was very short, therefore enthusiasm dropped off very abruptly, and consequently we found it quite difficult to interest cattle owners in warble control. There were only two machines operating, the Municipal Sprayer and one privately owned. As I pointed out last year, two machines are inadequate for this large area, especially when we are blessed with such peculiar spring seasons. The stand was taken that since the ground work is done and most of the ratepayers are familiar with, and realize the importance of warble fly control, that the service would be available to those who request it, and we should discontinue the extensive campaigning. It is very essential that more machines are available before a successful campaign can be realized. About 2000 head were sprayed last spring. National Film Board

As a result of numerous requests from rural communities in the M.D. that were previously served by the National Film Board, the Agricultural Service Board and the Municipal Council investigated the possibilities of re-creating the service. As it was found necessary that a Field Supervisor should hold a minimum number of meetings throughout the season, and "Visual Aid" is a great asset of these meetings, the National Film Board was incorporated into our rank and file.

Since commencing in April, I held some 41 meetings in 1949 with 40 on the regular N.F.B. circuit. A special agricultural film was shown at almost every showing. Among these were the films entitled: "Soil for Tomorrow," "Warble Fly," "Maatilis," "Just Weeds," "Rural Electrification," "Science Helps the Farmer," and "Vegetable Insects." At most of the meetings a fair discussion was held on some phase of agriculture. I personally feel that I have been able to make more contact in this way than by any other project the Service Board has sponsored.

It was originally planned to purchase a Camera and Slide Projector for my use. I was to be able to take shots of subjects of Agricultural interest in the district, and work up a series of slides and at each showing have the slides to stimulate a discussion on some phase of agriculture. To date this part of the programme hasn't materialized. I have found the N.F.B. circuit a great help in organizing different campaigns such as Warble Fly, Bang's Disease control etc. If the N.F.B. service is continued in 1950, we found that the best response came about May 15 and that is about the beginning of the weed season. I carried on into July this year, therefore I slipped up on my weed campaign somewhat, although I did put in considerable time trying to do just two jobs at once. I drove 3188 miles for the Film programme and put in 288 hours of extra time. A silver collection is taken at most of the points to assist in the purchase of new and permanent film equipment. Our greatest contract was out the end of June. Seed Drill Survey

A seed drill survey was commenced last spring in cooperation with the Alberta Department of Agriculture. Samples were taken at random throughout the M.D. whenever I saw a seed drill handy to the road in the course of my travel. At the time of collecting these samples, I was very impressed with the type of seed samples I was collecting. Twenty samples were sent to the Field Crops Branch and they in turn were forwarded to the Line Elevator Farm Service in Winnipeg where the official grading took place. No germination tests. Samples graded on the assumption that percentage germination was satisfactory for the grade the sample would qualify for on purity standards. From the twenty samples, eleven were rejected or 55%; two were No. 3 seed or 10 per cent; three were No. 2 seed or 15 per cent; and four graded No. 1 seed or 20%. Wild Oats were the greatest offenders causing 73 per cent of the rejected samples. Wild Mustard, Oryz in wheat, wild buckwheat, Russian thistle and a general mixture made up the rest of the impurities.

A condition such as the above should make it rather obvious that something has to be done in the very near future to improve the seed standards in the M.D. As long as we are going to continue planting weed seeds uniformly over the fields, then there is no use trying to combat the weeds.

Eight part time local weed inspectors were employed during the summer months, in an attempt to extend the service over as much of the district as possible. A fairly thorough coverage was made in most districts. Some 727 farms were inspected during the period, and from these reports approximately 60% of the farmers were doing a satisfactory job of weed control. I am quite happy to report that in my control, and from these reports, the M.D. of Wainwright has become very weed conscious and is anxious to do a good job of farming. The condition of the agricultural has improved tremendously. The increased acreage of early maturing barleys being used as cleaning crops is also a very good sign that the picture is improving from my first year in 1946. There are still several acres of Fall Rye being planted each year, in spite of the price dropping. This, I think, is sound basis to assume that the farmer is realizing that he cannot continue to live with the weeds. The weed inspectors reported a large number of fields being sprayed with 3-4-D. A large number of farmers also reported they were anxious to spray, but they contended that the cost of chemical was too high. The over-all picture, so far, as ordinary farm weeds are concerned, appears to be good. But, so long as the standard of seed-sown remains at the level the years survey showed, we will always be farming to eradicate weeds, rather than control them.

Canada and Row Thistle infestations were very prevalent this year in some districts, particularly those districts where little or no weed inspection was carried on. These particular areas had the most "Official Notices to Destroy Weeds" and "Condemnation Orders" written. This condition can be contributed mostly to the dry spring and early frost reducing the competition by cereal crops. The cutting and working of patches in the crop is increasing every year. This is only a temporary measure and an easy way out for the farmer on the spot. Wild Oats are still holding their own. A few farmers are using early maturing barley to eradicate them. The straight grain farmers are still taking the heaviest loss. Wild Mustard is gradually spreading to new areas and can be seen growing along almost every road allowance. The farmers using 2-4-D are not having any trouble with Wild Mustard. Wild Mustard and Slink Weed are highly susceptible to 2-4-D. Tertiary Buckwheat has been found is very serious degree of infestation in the M.D. on two farms. These farmers are being closely observed and recommendations issued for control measures.

wisest of our educationalists to devise a curriculum for most of them that would be both satisfying and useful.

Dr. Newton suggests that present day students find "the process of thinking too foreign and painful to bother about." They are unwilling to put forth an effort to master "really tough problems." Perhaps it is only natural that they should be so. Life is becoming easier and more comfortable for most of us. It is our objective to so organize our lives as to have less work and more time for play. We do not glorify great physical or mental efforts except in our sports. Why, therefore, should our children have a different viewpoint? If the school demands hard work from them, they revolt.

But whether in this attitude going to lead us? History shows that a great civilization cannot be built on productive capacity alone, but is dependent upon the "moral fibre" of the people. Rome "won the world, but lost her own soul" because of easy living. With all her material possessions, she failed to beat a pack of Teutonic barbarians who had the will and stamina to fight and win. Spain fell a prey to her own weakness.

"I'll save the land, to hastening ill a prey,"

"Where wealth accumulates and men decay."

Some western nations today show signs of a growing weakness for the same reason. Can it be that, with all their vaunted greatness, they are doomed to pass before the advance of younger and more virile peoples? Have their peoples already reached the point where they do not care?

The greatness of a nation—even of a modern democracy is not primarily dependent upon the condition of the masses. Civilization is forwarded by a comparatively few people only. If we can continue to produce the right kind of leaders our civilization will continue to advance regardless of the masses of the people. It is the Einsteins, the John Deweys, the Churchills, the Roosevelts, the Lenins, the Gandhis, the Bernard Shaws who mainly determine what course civilization shall take.

Dr. Newton appeals to our schools to continue to produce this type of genius. Mass education is fine, but don't let it interfere with education for leadership. There is little doubt that when we try to educate all with the same curriculum and in the same schools, even the best talent develops only to mediocrity. At present we are trying to make selective academic education and mass general education work within the same classrooms. Many of us, after years of experimentation, think that it can't be done. What is the solution? Perhaps, at the cost of sacrificing some democratic principles, we shall have to institute specialized schools.

I do not think that Dr. Newton is appealing for the retention of "censor" or any other particular subjects in our curriculum. But he would retain them until other more suitable subjects are found that will develop equally well the qualities he wants in his university students. These students must acquire a mental discipline that will enable them to cheerfully grapple with difficult tasks and take pride in their accomplishment. Present day students seem to be losing those qualities.

have been very helpful in locating this serious weed, and I wish to extend our thanks to them for their valuable assistance. 2,4-D will help to check the growing plants in a crop, but for the present cannot be counted on too strongly. Tertiary Buckwheat is only partially susceptible to 2, 4-D, and then only under ideal conditions.

Russian Thistle took a heavy toll last season. This condition can be contributed mainly to the dry season. A number of farmers sprayed their fields with 2,4-D and realized the difference between an almost complete failure and an average crop. I feel that 2,4-D spraying was sold in the M.D. of Wainwright last season on the strength of the Russian Thistle control.

Sports Camera

Whatever is causing these recent rumbles in the National Hockey League is certainly living up to the last days of the schedule and removing fan interest. But whether it's doing the circuit's prestige any good is another matter.

Within a space of two weeks recently two separate widely-publicized incidents flashed across Canada's sports pages. And they could scarcely be called publicity stunts, for that kind of publicity was unwanted.

Detroit—home of the league-leading Red Wings and a city of rabid hockey fans—appears to be the storm centre. Both episodes took place there.

The first concerned Chicago Black Hawks' Charlie Conacher and Detroit sports writer Lew Walter. The writer alleges that Conacher slugged him in the Chicago dressing-room after the game, and took out a warrant drawing Conacher into court. Conacher said that Walter landed him after Chicago lost and that he lost his temper momentarily.

The second didn't particularly involve any Detroit but was more or less between a coach and a referee. It apparently came about this way:

Billy Reay of Montreal Canadiens was given a misconduct penalty during a game with the Wings when he allegedly shoved and pushed referee Hugh McLean while protesting a minor penalty to mate Doug Harvey. Reay later was fined $10 for his action.

After Harvey was released he and Ted Lindsay of Detroit checked each other. Lindsay drew a minor but the Montreal players swarmed around McLean demanding a major. Coach Dick Irvin of Canadiens leaped the boards in pursuit of McLean. That cost him $5 for stepping on the ice.

When the heated cooled Irvin was reported to have chased after McLean and resumed an argument near the referee's room, disregarding a few fans who loved punches his way. The police arrived then to restore order, pinned Irvin's arms to his side and warned him about inciting a riot.

The Montreal players heard of this and raced to the rescue. Confusion followed and police were reported to have swung a few black-jacks without serious results. The incident finally ended and the Detroit cops said they would forget it.

They can forget it but this rhubarb following so closely upon the other makes it difficult to forget for fans of this league—supposedly the pattern-setter in good hockey and manners. Whatever penalizes the principals of these incidents suffer or have suffered is superficial. With hundreds of thousands of Canadian kids, taking these men as their idols and hockey as their daily diet, a lot of harm can be done.

A news item came out of Montreal recently that a lot of people were sorry to see it said that big Bill Durnan—the guy who has won the Vezina Trophy in five of the last six N.H.L. campaigns—has decided to retire after this season if a business proposition works out.

At 35, he says, he's got to think of his family and make sure of a settled future. No one begrudges him that, for Durnan was a sensation from the start and even today is rated by many as the best goalie in the league. He's shooting again for that trophy and the $1,000 that goes to the goalie whose team has the lowest goals-against average.

His coach, Dick Irvin, doesn't like the idea of his retiring either. "Why, he's good for three or four more years at least," he says. And Irvin is one with thousands of others who have ever seen the big boy step in front of the puck and kick it aside.

SEED CLEANING TIME

If the seed has to be cleaned at home, now is the time to give the fanning mill its seasonal check-up. Start by tightening the bolts and screws, suggests C. A. Cheshire, Extension Agricultural Engineer. Repair and replace any defective parts of the machine. Clean off the grease, dust and dirt, and lubricate all bearing surfaces. Inspect the screens, both for evenness of surface, and wear and tear on the perforations. A good job is not possible unless the screens are in first class condition.

The next step is to prepare the cleaning area. Have the floor as tight as possible and protect the mill from the effects of the wind outside. Another point to watch is that both cleaned grain and screenings can be picked up completely. When feeding the machine, make sure that it is level and that there is ample room to adjust and clean around it.

Choosing the correct screens is one of the important steps in good cleaning. Your instruction book should be your guide, but by using the screens as hand screens, a sample of the grain can be tested and the most suitable steps selected to give the separation you require.

For satisfactory operation of the mill, the grain should flow in as uniform a stream as possible. This requires that the mill be operated at a constant speed and that the rate of feeding is slow. The wind should be used as much as possible to give a weight separation. This, together with screen separation, should represent a fair portion of the sample—from 1/4 to 1/2, or possibly more. Only when a moderately heavy cut of grain is made can fairly good grading on size and weight basis be obtained. Two or even more passes through the mill may be required for satisfactory results.

Letters To The Editor

The Editor,
Wainwright Star-Chronicle.

With reference to the article "I've Been Thinking" by Mr. H. Teskey, appearing in the last issue of the Wainwright Star-Chronicle, in which a great deal of criticism was levelled at the recently held carnival, I find it necessary on behalf of the Retail Merchants' Association of the Chamber of Commerce to make clear a few of the points that the writer of the article thought fit to criticize. The first instance I wish to stress the fact that the original idea was put forward by the retail merchants, to hold a "businessmen's carnival" for the purpose of stimulating business at what is considered a quiet time of the year. The form this carnival was to take is now common knowledge and requires no further comment.

During the initial discussions it was agreed that if the celebrations committee of the Chamber of Commerce could provide some really good entertainment (which they did), then it was possible that the carnival could be a great success. Next, the naming of the carnival, the importance of a slogan applicable to the function can not be too highly stressed, since to put before the public a name that recalls to the mind an event enjoyed is the best medium of advertising for the future and the title "Gold Nugget Days" was, and is, considered the name that best carried the carnival as a whole, and not suggested, from the business angle alone. Surely good entertainment is as important as a "Gold Nugget" as a bargain purchased.

To the few individuals who gave unsatisfactorily of their spare and business time, and to the few who, in the end, and I would draw to Mr. Teskey's attention that they did not attend any other meeting than those at which Mr. Teskey was present, furthermore the enjoyable High School night was left to Mr. Teskey to organize as he has in the past, on the assumption that such assistance as is required would come from the high school staff or students, and would be assisted by the large scale advertising of Press and Radio.

In conclusion I would like to say that any organization will benefit from constructive criticism, but in conjunction with the chairman of the celebrations committee I feel that the writer of the article would have been better to have brought his criticism to the meeting before airing them publicly, particularly since at a time of C. G. I. T. convalling on the following evening when the carnival results were made known he felt compelled to commend those persons who had contributed to its success.

C. W. HUNTING

Local Implement Men

Visit John Deere Plant At Moline, Illinois

Precision engineering, scientific quality control, and modern production methods that would do credit to the finest factories in the world are used in the manufacture of John Deere farm implements, according to Lew Torg, of Wainwright and Geoff Miles, of Edgerton, who returned from a five-day tour of John Deere plants in western Illinois and eastern Iowa. These controls and methods not only contribute to the outstanding quality of John Deere farm implements, said Messrs. Torg and Miles, but are also a large degree responsible for the fact that John Deere products have not increased in cost as much as most other lines of "hard" goods since the war.

The first three days of Mr. Torg's and Mr. Miles' tour were spent in Moline and East Moline, Ill., where five of the eleven John Deere manufacturing plants are located. In Moline, they saw the John Deere Power Works, established more than 100 years ago and "home" of world-famous John Deere disk tillers and John Deere Tractor-Frame moldboard plows; the John Deere Wagon Works, where rubber-tired wagons, beet and bean hoes, stalk cutters and crop dusters are made, and the John Deere Planter Works, largest corn planter factory in the world, which, among other implements, produce corn planters with 60-acre daily capacity. In Moline Messrs. Torg and Miles also saw the John Deere testing and research laboratories, where highly-trained specialists are employed in never-ending search for new ways to improve John Deere implements.

In East Moline, Mr. Torg and Mr. Miles visited the John Deere Harvester Works and the John Deere Spreader Works. The Harvester Works, with 55 acres under one roof and more than 2,500 employees, manufactures large and small combines, mowers, brushers, and other implements. The Spreader Works makes manure spreaders and loaders, cotton harvesters, hammer and roughage mills, corn choppers and grain elevators.

During the last two days of their tour, they visited the two huge John Deere tractor factories at Dubuque and Waterloo, Ia., which employ about 9,000 persons. At these factories they saw production of the various general-purpose, standard-trad, crawler-type, and diesel tractors which comprise the extensive John Deere tractor line. They were particularly impressed by seeing John Deere Tractors "coming to life" and being driven away under their own power at the ends of the modern assembly lines.

Several other John Deere dealers from this general area made the trip with Mr. Torg and Mr. Miles. In addition to the factory tour, they met with representatives from John Deere factories in Des Moines, Ia., Ottumwa, Ia., and Horton, Wis. In order to secure a well-rounded picture of John Deere plans for the coming year, and also were guests at several luncheons and dinners attended by key personnel of Deere & Co. and various John Deere factories.

Nothing except a battle lost can be half so melancholy as a battle won.

Sawyer-Wattunee Wedding

Daffodils, tulips, lilies and ferns formed the background for the wedding ceremony on Friday, March 2nd, at St. Mary's Church, Edgerton, when Aletha eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duff Sawyer became the bride of L. M. Wattunee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Gillard of Aulaville, Ont. Rev. W. D. Ellway performed the ceremony.

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a gown of traditional white satin fashioned with lace yoke and long sleeves. The hemline caught up with white roses. Her veil of white illusion net was held in place with a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and carnations. Her only ornament, a necklace of pearls, the gift of the groom.

Miss Bunty Sawyer was her sister's bridesmaid. She wore a gown of green tulle with a white capelet and yellow carnations. Marjorie Sawyer and Mildred Carter, little cousins of the bride were flower girls dressed alike in period frocks of peach and blue nylon and carried nosegays of daffodils and carnations.

Mr. Leonard (Robbie) Robertson of Whitehorse, Yukon, attended the groom. Mr. Tony Sawyer and the bride's mother, Mrs. Duff Sawyer, were ushers. Mrs. R. King played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Miss Ann Spornits sang "Because".

A reception to one hundred guests was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Mother of the bride, Mrs. Sawyer, wore a toast brown tulle dress with matching accessories and wore a corsage of lily of the valley and pink carnations. Mrs. A. M. Sawyer, grandmother of the bride, poured tea. She wore a black and pink printed silk and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. Earl Hallett proposed the toast to the bride and Mr. W. Wattunee to the bridegroom and flower girls. Following a wedding dance in the Memorial Hall, the happy couple left on a short honeymoon to points West. The bride travelling in a wine-colored suit, grey coat and hat with wine accessories and a corsage of roses. Mr. and Mrs. Wattunee will reside in Whitehorse, Yukon.

MARITIMER IS HAPPY IN LOW-LEVEL HOME

HALIFAX—Home builders who run short of cash when the house is not yet finished shouldn't give up the project. Harry Willis of Bedford, near Halifax, was recently faced with such a predicament. He solved it by putting a roof over the cellar and living below ground.

Willis is quite happy in his cellar home. It's roomy, has a low tax assessment and the upkeep is negligible. It is cool in summer and winter winds blow over and not through it.

The basement was poured and the carpenter had taken over when Willis happened to ask the contractor what the finished building would cost. When told $1,900 he called a halt. Then his wife came up with the idea of living in the cellar.

At first county officials wouldn't grant him a building permit, as the below-ground dwelling didn't have two exit doors. So a stairway was built through the roof and another through the foundation.

Now that he's lived below ground Willis thinks the ideal home should be built into a side hill with the windows facing east to catch the morning sun. His advice to prospective builders is not to be afraid what someone might say.

"You are just as likely to be right as they are," he says.

A PROBLEM OF EDUCATION
Many Canadian families are poorly fed, even though they are well enough off financially to afford a good diet. Individual preferences and time habits have much to do with diet and homemakers should make an effort to guide their family's eating habits into more nutritious channels.

A SENSIBLE PRECAUTION
Frequent and careful washing of the hands in soap and water is one of the best safeguards we have against many common diseases. The hands and fingernails should be kept as clean as possible at all times, but particular care should be taken to wash up before meals and after using the toilet. Remember, most germs enter the body through the mouth, many of them via the hands.

It is not how long you live, but how well.
